Good morning. Rev. Miyoshi asked me to lead today’s Sunday service and provide today’s Dharma message. I am no Buddhist scholar, nor do I have an official academic background in Buddhism. Some of you might be thinking of heading to the exit by now thinking I do not have the credentials to be up here today. But what I do have is my own experience and at this point in my life that is the only true thing that I can deeply share.

It may be of interest to some of you how and why this young man decided to become an ordained Shin Buddhist priest. I am not a descendent of Buddhist priests like many of our current and past ministers. I did not grow up in Japan. I am not aged to perfection having a lifetime of experiences and wisdom like our current ministers. So why did I decide to go through with the first ordination? It was because of death.

In everyday social interactions death is a topic that people find taboo. Those who speak of death are criticized as being morbid. But death is natural. It’s what makes life life. Death is forever tied with life. It is our fate ever since we were conceived. When I say the word death you may think of dark and unpleasant thoughts. However, when one encounters death and accepts death as a natural part of life it sheds light on life in ways no other realization can.

On May 21, 2004, I encountered death; death of my father. It was the darkest, most heart breaking day I ever experienced. That morning I was in junior high attending class and the principal came into the room and asked me to come with him. My heart was pumping because I thought for sure I was getting detention or something. But something about my principal just did not seem right. He informed me that my mom had called and asked for me to come straight home so the principal gave me a ride home. I went in the room where my father was resting. He was breathing heavily at an even rate and in an instant he was gone.

I cried many nights out of fear. Was our family going to be okay? Who was I supposed to turn to with questions about life that only a father can answer? My father was always there for me whether to cheer me on during boy scout pine car derby races, or to scold me after fighting with my sister. He was always there. But now he wasn’t and never would be again. At thirteen I thought how was I supposed to deal
Everyone is busy getting prepared for Obon as I write this article. I hope that our Obon will be fun and successful.

The month of July is vacation time for our Dharma school children. I hope all of you will remember to read books during the next few months!

The following is one of Aesop's Fables. Aesop was a slave and storyteller who lived in Greece many centuries ago. It is one of my favorite stories and I would like to share it with you.

The Wind and the Sun

One day the wind and the sun had an argument about which one was stronger. They saw a man who was traveling on a road. They decided that the stronger of the two could make the man take off his coat.

The wind blew and blew harder and harder, but the man only held on to his coat tighter and tighter. The wind could not blow the man's coat away no matter how fiercely it blew.

Now it was the sun's turn. The sun softly sent its sunbeams on the man. It gently increased its energy until the traveler became very warm. The man finally took off his coat and rested under the shade of a tree.

The meaning or moral of this fable is: Gentle persuasion is stronger than force. Do you think Aesop was right? Let's discuss this during one of our Dharma classes!

Have a great summer!

Gassho,
Claire Hansen

The death of my father was a wake up call for me. I seriously began to value relationships. One of the introductory classes in the first year of optometry school had a survey about goals as aspiring optometrists. We were told to provide how we would spend our time if we had only 6 months to live. Then we gave responses for 1 month, 1 week, 1 day. As the time frame got shorter what we thought we wanted to do with our time began to get shorter and shorter. Our goals went from traveling, to doing extreme sports, to spending time with loved ones. While I did not experience my life on a set timer, I was awakened to the nectar of life. It is so limited yet offers us so many opportunities. The choices we make affect the people around us. I am a link in the golden chain. May I keep my link bright and strong. At this point I felt I could no longer stop listening to the Buddhist teachings. I may have times when I am really into it like during our seminars or retreats and other times when finals roll around and I am not able to participate with this Sangha as I would like. But I know I will never be able to pull myself away from the Buddhist teachings and to stop learning and to stop asking questions, such as the teachings of impermanence of life, seeing myself for who I truly am and the causes and conditions that came about which allowed for this moment to be, right now.

As I continue learning more about the teachings and continue optometry school it is important for me to stay...

ies songs of “I’m Gonna Rock with You” by Michael Jackson, and “I Heard it through the Grapevine” by Marvin Gaye. Of course, we also did other line dance favorites such as “The Electric Slide,” “Mambo #5,” “Cupid Shuffle,” and the more challenging quick steps to “Move like a Jagger.”

Thank you to the Sangha members who donated raffle prizes and drinks, and to those who came to physically set up the gym, decorated and put the goody door prize bags together, cleaned up, sold tickets, and sold drinks. Thank you Bob and Kay Yamashita for always driving all the way from Menifee to help and support the dance! We appreciate all the dedication and positive energy that goes into making a successful fundraising dance. Phew! We’ve got a little break until the next one @ the end of September!

A very nice crowd of around 158 people did indeed come to “Continue the Fun @ Oldies 51!” Thanks to our hard-working Sangha and our DJ Steve Kikuchi, the crowd really enjoyed themselves on the dance floor. We have fun as we sing to these ol’ tunes as well as dance to them. One guest told me he loves coming so much that he wished we had a dance once a month(! ) A personal friend of mine from elementary school days came with her husband for the very first time and surprised me. I had been sending flyers to her and she decided to come this time. Her husband was pleasantly surprised at the number of people who were there dancing away and said, “We’ve been missing this all this time!” My friend commented that she liked seeing the nice mix of the crowd all coming together to enjoy the evening.

We promote our Obon @ our June dances, and many dancers stepped into the circle to join in “Tanko bushi” the coalminer’s dance, and “Shiawase Samba”. We danced these to the Oldies songs of “I’m Gonna Rock with You” by Michael Jackson, and “I Heard it through the Grapevine” by Marvin Gaye. Of course, we also did other line dance favorites such as “The Electric Slide,” “Mambo #5,” “Cupid Shuffle,” and the more challenging quick steps to “Move like a Jagger.”

true to myself. I do not try to be the perfect Buddhist or the perfect minister because that is not possible for me. I am who I am but I am still able to follow the Buddhist’s teachings.

If I try to be good, being good is not a state of being that I can maintain for very long, if at all. What I am really doing is only trying to avoid doing bad. Who we are is not a matter of being good or being bad, being happy or sad. It is not a matter of effort but realizing the true nature of who we are deep inside. Happiness is not a matter of what you do or say but how you live your life. No matter what we try to do or fail to do, who we are deep inside will always reign supreme. Our true nature, our human nature will always shine through.

It is important to me to stop trying to be this or trying to be that but just to be. I am not the perfect husband, son, brother or nephew. I use every situation, every encounter such as an argument, a good grade on an exam or complete failure and I use it as a chance for me to see me for who I am. Maybe I am too arrogant when I ask so many questions in class. Maybe I could write more letters to a special lady waiting for her visa to the US. Maybe I could tell my mom I love her as I go to school each morning. Maybe I could support my sister in every decision she makes and not argue with her about the smallest of details. Maybe I do not have to criticize my uncle who is always there to support me and show him more family love. But I sometimes I don’t. When I try to do the things I wish I could, I am not me, I am merely emulating someone else. But there is a way and that is being myself and knowing who I am and what I am. The Buddhists teachings applies to me no matter what I am as long as I am me and am able to see me for who and what I am. With all the good and bad, with all my flaws and shortcomings, I am me and only me.

There are so many opportunities all around us to see how we are all connected and how wonderful each and every moment is. It has been my pleasure to deliver this message to you today. Thank you for listening. I would like to leave you with some sunshine from a Pixar movie I recently watched. It said: the past is history; the future is a mystery; today is a gift so that it is why we call it the present.

Combine flour, baking powder, eggs, sugar, lemon juice and lemon zest. Mix well. Spread over baked crust. Bake until set, about 25 minutes. Cool. Dust top with sifted powdered sugar and cut into 3 x 1 bars.

This lemon bar was one of the desserts on our 50th Oldies complimentary appetizer plate. As a result, we have had a number of requests for this delightful dessert. It is shared by one of our editors and was taken from the book, Another Taste of Aloha: A Collection of Recipes from the Junior League of Honolulu. Enjoy!

皆さんおはようございます。本日は義先生が不在のため、私が日曜礼拝を勤めてさせていただいております。
私が今日皆さんのお話をするよう頼まれたのは2ヶ月前のことでしたが、今週に入っても何がお話できるのか、と正直悩んでいました。気軽なおしゃべりと違って、何か意味のあること、皆さんに頷いていただけるようなことを話したいと思っていたのですが、それでは具体に何を、と考えると答えに詰まってしまいました。そもそもたかが25年生きただけの私が、知恵も経験も豊富な皆さんにお教えできるようなことなどあるはずがありません。もしも一つだけできるとすれば、それは私がこれまでの人生で得た経験とそこから学んだことを話すことではないかと思います。
皆さんの中には、お寺の生まれでもない私がどうして得度を受けたのか、不思議に思っている方もいらっしゃることでしょう。私にとって得度のご縁となったこと、もっと言うなら仏教と出遇う道を開いてくれたのは「死」でした。
私たちの社会では「死」は多くの場合タブー視されています。私たちはできるだけ死を語らず、考えず、従って死から逃げるような生活を送っています。けれども本来死を迎えるというのはごく自然なことなのです。死があるから生が必要をもつのです。「生死（しょうじ）」というように生と死は切り離すことができないのです。死に直面し、それが自然なこととして受け止めることができた時、初めて生きるということが明瞭に、真実に照らされてはっきりとしてくるのではないでしょうか。
私が死の問題に直面したのは、2004年5月21日でした。父がこの日亡くなりました。今までの人生の中で最も悲しく辛い日でした。中学生だった私は授業中に校長先生に呼ばれ教室を出ます。叱られることなくただ理屈を解けるだけが彼に求められていたので、息を呑んで礼を言うと、校長先生はすぐに家に送ってくれました。家に帰ると、父の部屋に居座り、授業をお休みになり、お墓に向かうことを知らされ、ただただ悲しみを胸に抱え、一人で過ごすことが主たる生活内容になりました。遠くに居る母や姉にも電話をかけず、ただ一人で立ち往生しました。父の死の真実を知ると、私はただただ揺れ動いているだけでした。それから何日か、ただただ悲しみに暮れていました。でも、ある日、自分に何が起こっているのかを知ることを決意しました。その時、父の死が自分を激しく動かし続け、私は自分を変える決意をしました。
家族に告げると、母はただただ涙を流し、父の死を物語まったり、何も言わずに悲しみをこらえました。この時、私は父の死が自分を変えることに気づき、自分自身の人生を改めて考えたのです。父の死が自分に与えた教訓は、私は自分の人生を自分の力で生きようとしたのです。自分自身で生きること、自分自身に自信を持つことが大切であるということを学びました。
お寺に足を運んで行ったのは、この頃でした。習慣になる程通うようにまではなりませんでしたが、それでも河和田先生の法話を聞くのは好きでした。そのうち、同じ話でもその時によって聞こえ方が違ったり、自分自身の心に残る部分が異なることに気づきました。特に諸行無常や縁起の教えに惹きつけられました。それらの教えが私自身の人生の中で聞くことができた時、父の死が私に教えてくれていることを聞くことができるようになりました。
まず最初に気づいたことは、私は決して一人ぼっちではない、ということでした。父の死からずっと私は家族や多くの友人と一緒にいた。話をするだけで、それも大切に思っていました。家族や友人は私を支えてくれ、彼らの温かさが私を支えてくれたのです。慈しみと支えは今度は私が母や姉を支えていく強さとなってくれました。
父の死は私を目覚めさせるアラームのようなものでした。父の死を通して家族や人とのつながりのありがたさに気づくことができましたからです。父の死はまた私の人生も限りのあるものであることを教えてくれました。私たちは、生の間に何ができるかを考え臓腑をもって考え、究極的には死を恐れていたとしても、死を恐れるのであれば、生きる勇気を失っていると感じられます。死を恐れるからこそ、生きる勇気を見つけることができるのです。死を恐れても生きられる人は、恐れも忘れて生きる人こそ、真実に生きることを理解しているのです。
この気づきを与えてくれたのが仏教の教えでした。そのことをはっきりと感じた今、仏教の教えは私の生活から切り離せないものになりました。これからもこの教えに従って生を生き、死を恐れないで生きることを願っています。
老いが、病いが、死が、私の生を問いかけているのです。「これでいいのか？」と
